Could Ashtar Sheran be the next Avatar promised by the Aetherius Society?

Prologue

The humanity of our Earth has urgent need for truth. This is a search that will only be possible if each citizen of this planet realises that they have cosmic responsibility to reject any degree of lies, no matter how small and harmless they may appear to be. This is a very difficult exercise but the serious occult student who has followed the international developments leading the leakage of certain sources of information in the second part of 2010 will have realised that in the invisible planes there has been a great call to manifest truth in our dimension. Humanity cannot evolve living in a world of lies, and this condition greatly delays the work of the cosmic Masters. I invite you to reflect upon this introductory paragraph and to manifest greater truth no matter what under all circumstances, as much as you can. This paragraph also contains a sacred dimension that is invisible to the naked eye, but this will become evident to those who are ready to receive it. We hope that the consequences will be far greater.

Ashtar Sheran

Ashtar Sheran is a cosmic Master in Adamic (i.e. human) form with vast responsibilities for the evolution of the galaxy and the greater universe. This is not to say that his appearance is exclusively human-like. Beings of higher multidimensional nature can often choose their form depending on the needs of any specific work they are doing. Ashtar Sheran is a being of incredible energy, light, and compassion. As part of his administrative responsibilities in the greater cosmos he has been helping our sector of the Milky Way, and the Solar system in particular. His broad responsibilities range from the microcosmic scale to the macro cosmos. As the teachers of ancient times have always known, the macro and the micro cosmos are two sides of the same coin which connects us all to our divine source. Microbial life has as much a role to play in the evolution of the Universe as intelligent life streams who engage in interplanetary affairs. Our sacred source, the ONE light of the greater Universe, is the spiritual foundation and inspiration for the whole spiritual gravity that permeates the ether. Masters of Ashtar Sheran's caliber will only do things that are in complete and absolute resonance with the evolution of the Universe. If they make a hand gesture, or if they emit a sound or an image, it's because they will have far greater consequences in the scheme of things. One is not constrained by time when dealing with this range of energy vibration. Nothing is by chance and nothing is lost in a cosmic Master's teaching. People who have had the privilege to know masters of this caliber know that there is a greater meaning to absolutely everything they do.

Ashtar Sheran has been engaged in the evolution of our planet because Earth's evolution will have widespread consequences in the Solar System and in our galaxy as a whole. Bringing back the mirror concept of micro versus macro cosmos, if one cell of the body is sick the whole body will, by cosmic law, try and save the sick cell as much as it can, even while one cell alone could not destroy the foundation of the body in principle. This is exactly what is happening with Earth, a cell of the macro-cosmos. Our beautiful planet is a living organism who is sick because part of its inhabitants have deliberately used their divine free will to rebel against cosmic law. This is the principle of the cancer. For a cosmic unit to work in perfect balance with cosmic law it is necessary that all of its parts are functioning properly. The present chaotic state of Earth, although unique in the solar system, is not isolated as far as the galaxy is concerned. This state is fundamentally associated with the concept of learning the real meaning of free will. The original energy release of our ONE cosmic source was such that spiritualised energy can actually spiritualise matter so that matter is transmuted back into more refined energy forms. Matter can also ascend! You can think of this process as a 'cosmic factory' that is always transmuting its elements into something higher, something closer to our sacred source. Our stellar source saw fit to design this process in such a way that the fundamental transmutation associated with matter should be naturally realised by all lifestreams with as little interference as possible. From this cosmic perspective the advanced student will sooner or later realise that the greatest possible manifestation of free will is cosmic surrender, in that the lifestream can consciously engage in further transmutation of the universe in a collaborative sense. When this degree of consciousness is achieved the soul becomes a willing partner in the evolution scheme of things. Under this higher concept free will becomes service to the light. This is the certain and unstoppable evolution of all life streams regardless of how primitive they may appear to be. Never lose sight that even the most uneducated, primitive lifestreams are linked to the ONE source.

Earth's humanity is now in a crucial point in that we are offered once again all the cosmic support and conditions to evolve one step in the evolutionary path. This will occur in association with a dimensional shift that will introduce Earth's humanity to the greater interplanetary community. In the present era this is equivalent to an initiation into adulthood in which we will understand the meaning of cosmic responsibility and cosmic brotherhood. Hence, the human concept of free will will also advance one small step further towards cosmic freedom (i.e., the conscious choice of serving the light which is our ONE source). This transition is brought about by a cosmic cycle that has dramatically increased the load of cosmic rays that Earth is receiving, together with certain changes in the Earth's Ionosphere/Magnetosphere which are allowing the surface of the planet to receive this greater load. Without going into complicated details of cosmic cycles, planetary orbits and galactic spinning around its core, one can think of these changes in a broad sense as a period of great availability of energy. Cosmic rays can be dangerous to lifestreams that are unprepared to receive them, but the perfect design of cosmic growth saw fit that we on Earth can and should be exposed to this greater load now. But what one does with the energy that is offered is up to each soul. One can only receive what is offered according to his or her capacity to incorporate vibration. Cosmic rays are actually spiritual information in codified form, which can be transmuted by the receiver. The greatest user of this energy is the lightbody, which has a less dense structure compared to the physical body and is better prepared to decode the information. In the long run this process implies a transmutation of the DNA with a consequent physical evolution in its perfect, harmonic natural form. As this energetic increase is a natural cycle, there is absolutely nothing to fear about it.

The greatest load of cosmic rays comes from the stars, as they act as reflective centers of cosmic information. Stars, as well as planets that are in very close proximity to stars, are normally used as communication centers by the hierarchy of each solar system because of the inherent energetic properties of the nuclear fusion in the ether. The initiated will intuitively develop a very intimate relationship with the solar logos because this is the most advanced source of information in each solar system. It is important to emphasise that information is actually a cosmic quality, a vibration that is resonated via love frequency. Love is the foundation of the whole universe, galaxy by galaxy, star by star. The central galactic sun of the Milky Way is in Sagittarius, and it transmits very powerful cosmic rays which can be absorbed by each solar system proportionally to their vibration. As a result lifestreams are, on average, less spiritualised towards the outskirts of each galaxy (i.e. the spiritual gravity is lower). Our sun is a source of love and light in its own right, but it also receives a great deal of energy from our neighboring suns. This energy is filtered and reflected back to us so that we can receive the quality impulse imparted by the galactic center. This quality always contains a particular teaching which is a directive from the galactic board, and the lesson to be learned changes depending on the phase of the cosmic cycle that animates the galaxy around its core. In our present cycle we are experiencing a great deal of acceleration from cosmic reflectivity from other stars such as Alpha Centauri, our closest neighbor, and Alcyone, our main source of spiritual gravity second only to the galactic sun. The lesson to be learned in the current cycle is related to experiencing a return to unity through an initiation into adulthood, with increased personal responsibility, transmutation of free will towards cosmic freedom (conscious service to the light) and a very strong reduction in the polarity of the dimension.

The thoughts above, which have always been known by avatars and illuminated teachers of the past on Earth, are amongst the teachings of the cosmic Master Ashtar Sheran which are now becoming available to everyone. Ashtar Sheran is intimately associated with the energy of the Archangel Michael, and with the highest concept of the cosmic Christ (i.e., unconstrained by humanity's perception of religion). Unfortunately, there has been a subtle yet firm campaign from certain forces to delay or block Ashtar Sheran's influence on Earth's humanity. This is not a call for judgment, only discernment. Even in the midst of distortion one can find intimate inner desire to serve the light. Much of this interference has occurred in invisible planes, but with the definite repercussion in our physical dimension of the distortion of some of the teachings. We should never concentrate on the negative aspects. The serious adept will know what works for them via heart chakra vibration. In the Internet era the more advanced student will benefit tremendously after learning to read the vibration behind what is actually written, so that the source of the message can be identified and honoured. For the student who has been disappointed by anything “Ashtar Command” I recommend a careful reading of my first manuscript ‘Who is Ashtar Sheran’ (<http://lightworkers.org/wisdom/alex-light/89784/who-ashtar-sheran>) in which we discuss this condition in more details. The student is also referred to that text for an appreciation of what spiritual gravity and heart chakra vibration represent.

I share what I perceive as true and authentic based on almost 15 years of continuing direct contact with Ashtar Sheran, who by some reason chose me as his student and initiated me out of the body when I was only 21. This does not make me special or better than anyone else, but rather increases my responsibility to bring truth. Humanity of this Earth needs to learn not to be controlled by feelings of ego and competition intrinsic to a highly polarized third dimensional rate of vibration. We need to understand that we all have our unique qualities and contribution to add to the process. The important is to concentrate on the teachings and not on the teachers. The credibility of any teacher is most certainly expressed through their unselfish service to humanity. People can illuminate the darkest world through their life example.

The Aetherius Society

The Aetherius Society was founded in London in 1955 by an early contactee of cosmic Masters called George King (1919-1997). George King studied yoga and occult metaphysical science and became a master of out of body experiences in the fifties. He had a profound sense of integrity and an incredible energy and stamina! He had an impressive amount of contacts from the hierarchy of the solar system in an almost uninterrupted form for many decades, particularly from Venus and Mars. George King has done a tremendous amount of good work for the planet in the form of energy transmissions in the ether, yet much of what he did goes unrecognised by mainstream lightworkers. Any serious student of cosmic administration should get familiar with the life and work of George King, putting his experience in context with the actual time in which they happened. There is a comprehensive body of literature published by the Aetherius Society which is readily available from various sources.

One of the fundamental aspects here is that although his work is not unique, it offers one of the most well founded contributions towards a solid understanding of the cosmic organisation of the Solar System. Nowadays there is so much information freely available that for the young student it is very hard to distinguish between higher truth material and other types of contribution. Oftentimes people make material available on the web without a diligent, proper research that any branch of knowledge truly deserves. In the universe there is nothing that could possibly be new. The ancient traditions have always known about what we perceive as modern day teachings, but often the teachers of a particular generation need to present the same concepts from a modern perspective. Everything that we may perceive as new ideas has been thought out before in the galactic mind. The teachings of George King are very relevant because of the extremely high vibration of his energetic imprint and the comprehensiveness and thoroughness of his teachings in a very didactic way.

Over the last two decades we have seen a great number of channelings from other solar systems of our galaxy. As wonderful as this is, the serious student will sooner or later realise that a strong background on the cosmic administrative aspects of the solar system is a fundamental step before we can advance further. Putting it in different words, how can we discuss cosmic matters with the Pleiadians before being aware of what the Venusians are doing? Of course we can, but sooner or later we will realize that when the dimensional shift occurs it is our direct neighbours from Venus who are actually going to knock on our doors to congratulate us and initiate explicit commerce and intellectual and spiritual exchange. This process has started in the mid 20th century by very brave people such as George King, and it is from this perspective that a good understanding of what the contactees of those days were bringing is really important. Also, never lose sight that no channeling or individual contactee hold the complete truth, for there is no such thing. The experiences are shared based on the individual abilities of each channeler to receive information as well as on the planetary mind of the time in which the contacts take place. Making mistakes is intrinsic to human nature and not even the most prominent of our (human) teachers are exception. Cosmic beings can actually use the mistakes of previous teachers to bring a more advanced cosmic concept to the later generations. One example is the escapism of the 1980s (“operation world evacuation”) which now we know not to be aligned with the highest truth that the extraterrestrial intelligence was trying to impart. In the end all pieces of the puzzle will fit together superbly well!

So what is the connection between Ashtar Sheran and the Aetherius Society? The student will find no references to Ashtar in the writings of George King, although he was in close association with a Master from Venus called ‘Aetherius’ (hence the name for the society). Could perhaps ‘Aetherius’ and ‘Ashtar Sheran’ be the same entity? It is not uncommon that cosmic source can use different channels with different approaches so that the future generations can close the link, and usually their names represent a particular teaching. For instance, Ashtar Sheran in Sanskrit could be interpreted as ‘The Brightest Sun’, as a probable reference to the energy of the galactic center. Ashtar Sheran had first contacted another George, the American George Van Tassel, in 1952. This happened only three years before George King founded the Aetherius Society. Mr. Tassel had also done a lot of good work and the messages of both contactees have a similar cosmic essence, although their works are very different and do not contain any trace of plagiarism.

In the 1950s the planet was at great risk of nuclear war and the board of the solar system had decided that Gaia was not going to be destroyed. That is why the cosmic intervention occurred through different channels at almost the same time on different parts of the planet, including Germany, where at least one medium (Herbert Victor Speer) had received revelations from Ashtar Sheran. The student is referred to my manuscript 'Who is Ashtar Sheran part II: the foundation of the universe, humanity's third dimensional ego, 2012's energy climax and communicating the unification through love' (<http://lightworkers.org/wisdom/alex-light/110871/who-ashtar-sheran-part-ii-foundation-universe-humanity-s-third-dimensional->) for further insights on the cosmic intervention which stopped nuclear war on Earth in the mid-20th century. As discussed in that manuscript we know from many independent sources that the hierarchy of the solar system had decided that Earth's humanity is NOT permitted to destroy the planet under any circumstance. This decision is permanent and cannot be changed. That means that should governments indulge in nuclear attacks in large scale this would actually be physically stopped by alien technology. This decision is a blessing that attends the interests of the whole galaxy, being the only direct interference that has ever been allowed by the supreme council of the solar system in our 3rd dimension. Even if the young student thinks that this issue is completely irrelevant nowadays, it is well worth sparing a thought for the fact that if it wasn't for this crucial intervention we would probably not be alive.

Can you imagine how hard it was to convince people of the dangers of nuclear experiments in the 1950s? Even after more than six decades later we haven't even started to comprehend what the real dangers are! Nuclear energy is extremely dangerous for the etheric structure and cosmic Masters have consistently and strongly advised against its use regardless of the aim. In 1958 George Van Tassel wrote in his book 'The Council of the Seven Lights' (available online from various sources) that the atomic experiments had actually interfered with the delicate climatic balance of the planet, and that the sea ice was going to melt in the North Pole and actually increase in the South Pole. More than fifty years later our satellites are observing exactly this unusual contrast between the hemispheres, one of the climatic puzzles of global warming! We do not need nuclear energy to produce energy. The apparent energy crises faced by Earth's humanity is actually a spiritual crisis. Abundance will be freely available for all, when we incorporate a higher dimensional aspect to our existence. As discussed by Paulette Reymond in her wonderful work with Ashtar Sheran published in 2009 (available from various sources in German) the new dimension will also bring a new range of physical laws which will create abundance from completely clean and renewable energy sources found in the ether. Vacuum doesn't mean lack of energy!

The Master Aetherius and Ashtar Sheran may or may not be the same entity, but the most accurate channelings from Germany in the late fifties and sixties state that Ashtar Sheran was actually from a planet called Metharia in orbit of Alpha Centauri, and not Venus. Ashtar Sheran's personal teaching with me seems to point in the same direction. At the same time it has also been disclosed that life conditions around Alpha Centauri are very similar to the one enjoyed by the Venusians, where a very high degree of spiritual development with at least 5th dimensional conditions prevail. Ashtar has said that he has very good relationship with the Venusians and that they are great partners in the evolution of the universe. More recently Ashtar Sheran has also informed that he has a range of micro and macro cosmic responsibilities that date back to the origin of the universe (see the work of Paulette Reymond referred before). Hence it becomes increasingly evident that to attribute one single planet of origin to entities of this caliber may be misleading. This modern perspective is also a cosmic trigger to remind us that we all can be traced back to our divine origin in the ONE source. This will fall in place in the right time.

Another interesting thing to be considered is the coming of the new "Avatar", who is expected in his/her full cosmic aspect (i.e. not incarnated). This has been discussed since biblical times as the next coming of the "Son of man", and it has also been predicted by Nostradamus. George King of the Aetherius Society was given the information from a Master of Karma that this new Avatar will arrive on Earth soon as a tall shining entity wearing a single space garment. This description seems to fit perfectly with Ashtar Sheran (the student is referred to the Brazilian artist and medium Claudio Gianfardoni for the best drawings of Ashtar Sheran available on the planet, painted in the 1990s). I am of the opinion that Ashtar Sheran might be the new Avatar, but for this we will have to wait and see. One of the fundamental hints is that the evolution of Ashtar Sheran's teachings since the first contacts in 1952 seems to suggest that he is in preparation for something bigger, going much beyond the initial phase of emergency intervention due to nuclear threat. That's why it is important that all students of truth get familiar with his true light as opposed to the distortions available from many false channels. This is not an attempt to claim that I have the truth, but rather to draw your attention to the fact that nowadays truth can only be found inside your heart. This is also to be backed up by the healthy intellectual stimulation that comes from a profound analysis of much of the literature available since the 1950s. It is like adopting a scientific mentality dosed by a great intuition and heart perception of actual vibration. Do research! Without hard work nobody can achieve much, regardless how delightful New Age philosophy may seem to be.

We live in wonderful times, and science and religion will merge sooner or later. Not the fake religion of the human priests but the true cosmic religion of the spiritualisation of matter in synchronicity with our divine ONE source. Christ, Buda, Masters from Venus, Ashtar Sheran, Masters from Alpha Centauri, Sirius, Pleiades, and so on... We are all part of a vast cosmic brotherhood. It doesn't really matter if Christ was from Venus as claimed by George King or from the galactic administrative center as believed by much of the current new age thought. What really matters is that the concept of a cosmic Christ as in our common sharing of the ONE source is and forever will be the most advanced teaching available. That's why one can truly say that the one who saw one of the beings above has actually seen them all. As the planet receives more cosmic rays the old order will increasingly collapse and implode so that the foundations of the new order can be laid out. Be brave and be strong, for the old order will not let it go without trying to hold onto power. Do not let the magicians of black magic deceive you through their strategies of fear, and yet be humble at all times and live in happiness and peace within yourself and in serving your fellows. Each gift that we have is truly divine, so let it come out! I humbly invite you, as a student of Ashtar Sheran, to put our egos aside and treat ourselves with the greatest spirit of cosmic brotherhood. When more and more incarnated people will do that the Earth will be ready for the new Avatar and the 5th dimension leading to our incorporation in the interplanetary family will be at hand. I look forward to working together in exciting times!

Copyright disclaimer: This text is incomplete and reflects the author's own limitations in his current understanding of this unfolding. It is hoped that this manuscript will help elucidate some aspects related to Ashtar Sheran and his important mission on Earth, in which every human being on this planet is invited to be a co-creator and a potential partner. I am happy for this manuscript to be forwarded to anyone interested in the topic, as it is important that these concepts are widely discussed on Earth. I request that anyone willing to share this text to please do so in its entirety (without cutting or removing excerpts) and to include this disclaimer and the signature link below to my lightworkers profile where the manuscript will be publicly posted and will be open to comments and criticism. This text reflects the views and personal experience of the author, and as such it is not a channeling, although much of the information here contained has been transmitted by cosmic beings. The inspiration received from many spiritual teachers through their important work (published or unpublished) to increase the awareness is greatly valued and acknowledged. In particular I am very grateful for invaluable comments and suggestions made by colleague Lightworker 'Antimorphic' (UK) and by Ms. Paulette Reymond (Switzerland). The most accurate pictures of Ashtar Sheran available on the planet to date have been produced by the Brazilian artist and medium Claudio Gianfardoni, and many of them are available through various sources.
